Readership

Ages 7 to adult.

Reading age of the text: 9 - 10 years.

Passionate, tactical and charismatic - Jude Bellingham is one of the finest talents in world football. Impressing his peers from an early age, Bellingham's drive and determination has seen him set his sights on success - and achieve it.

Discover his story - and what truly goes on in the changing rooms and training grounds - in this fast-moving fictionalised biography.

This book is part of Tales from the Pitch series of biographies, offering a fresh take on the familiar football biography format.

These are exhilarating reads about players from all walks of life. Many have faced failure, injury and rejection, to ultimately make their dreams come true and to inspire their fans.

At only 128 pages, these books have been specially written and designed to make them ideal reads for reluctant and dyslexic readers.

The Author

Matt Carver has loved football from an early age, and still dreams of playing for England. As this becomes less and less likely, he instead channels his passion into watching, reading, and writing about football.
